inspectors feeling

The Feelings Inspectors would like all children to feel loved at Bramble Brae.

They shared that love is the most

Children need adults who care for them in their life to make them feel loved. This could be parents, carers, grandparents, teachers and PSAs. These adults should make sure children have food, water, shelter, are clean and safe. They say, 'I love you', give us hugs, help us with friendships and problems and make sure children have a happy life.

'All children need to be loved. If we don't feel loved, then we can feel lonely'.

- Feelings Inspector and Imagineer, aged 12

Our Love Manifesto

We listen to each other

A manifesto is a written statement that describes your goals and ideas. Here's the Feelings Inspectors'

Love Manifesto for our school. This is for all children and adults working together to make Bramble Brae a place where every child feels loved.

> We have a bully-free and fightfree school

Our adults

smile

We ask each other how our day has been

We get help with our work when we need it

We play and take care of each other.

We have friends.

No one is left out

We feel safe. happy and smart

We are

We have teachers who care for us and are always there to talk, so we all feel included and good about ourselves

We go to places that we enjoy, like the swimming pool

Can you add to the Love Manifesto?

Answer the questions in the hearts, cut them out and decorate them.

We do a feelings check-in every morning as we don't always have the same emotions. If a child feels sad, the adults can help make them feel happy.
