Me neither.
Let's go to the park and
do some of our work
there.

So many interruption
s! I did not get any
work done
at all.

I will chum
you
because I have a
nature test
to study
for.

I am going to
the park to see
if I can find something to stop global warming.

Ellie is walking her dog
as she always did every day after school.

I want to be a cowgirl
when I grow up.

So the three Jacks
and the two girls
find them selfs in
the park at the same time.

Boots the dog has found something in the park. What could it be?

I think it might be a bone?

Oh no, what has he dug up?

It can't be!

I think it's a sabertooth tiger bone. Lets go the library to check!

I don't know I can't see properly.

Aha!
Jack found he was right!

And that's the story of the discovery of the sabertooth tiger bone!

The next day at school they told their class what they had learned.

Oh no, I was so excited about the bone that I forgot to study for my nature test !!!!!

I'm glad I have a passion for animals.

I taught myself to play the keyboard.

It's through films that I learnt about cowgirls.

I'm just learning about first aid.

I am in this kilt because I love history.

The 5 children discovered that they all like learning new things on their own.
