

Children's Parliament eLearning Hub

We work with you to strengthen your confidence, knowledge and skills to promote, protect and fulfil children's human rights.

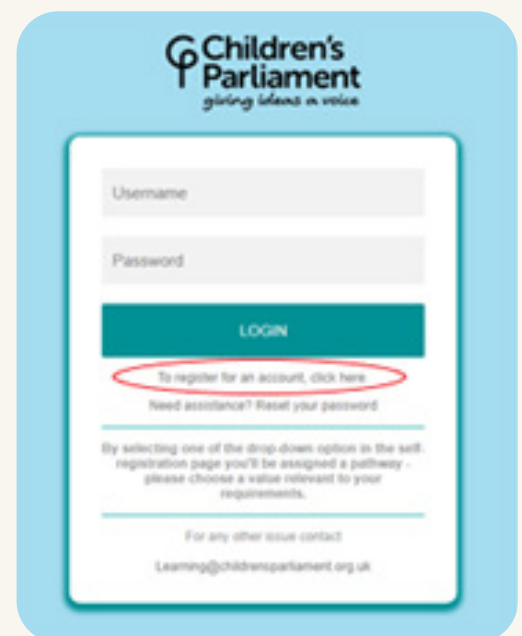

At Children's Parliament, one of our priorities is to work with individuals, organisations and public bodies to build their capacity to support the realisation of children's rights.

Through this eLearning Hub, we provide a range of learning materials, resources and tools to help you develop relevant skills and knowledge. This will enable you to confidently promote, protect and fulfil children's human rights.

You can access our eLearning hub via our website, or by clicking on the link below:

<https://childrensparliament.clcmoodle.org/>

Creating a learning account is currently free. There is a User Guide available if you need assistance during the registration process. If you have any questions, please contact Learning@childrensparliament.org.uk

What's in our eLearning Hub?

In our eLearning Hub, you can find courses covering different aspects of children's rights, including introductory courses on children's rights and specific courses on thematic areas such as Education, Mental Health and Early Years. Each course is made up of bitesize modules that guide you through the course in a useful order.

The image displays two screenshots from the eLearning Hub. The top screenshot, titled "Course overview", shows a grid of three course cards. The first card is "Introduction to the UNCRC Education" (100% complete), the second is "Rights-based Practice in Early Years Education" (100% complete), and the third is "The UNCRC and Education Children's Rights" (50% complete). A blue arrow labeled "A course" points to the third card. The bottom screenshot, titled "Introduction to the UNCRC", shows a list of modules. The first two are "Course Introduction and Learning Outcomes" and "Introduction to Children's Parliament", both marked as "Done: View". Below these are four module cards, each with a green checkmark: "The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child", "Human Dignity and the UNCRC", "UNCRC incorporation in Scotland", and "Learning check-in". A blue arrow labeled "A module" points to the first module card.

These modules consist of reading materials and videos, as well as interactive elements like quizzes and self-reflective exercises. The content was developed using Children's Parliament's long history of rights based practice with children. Many of these materials were co-produced with Members of Children's Parliament and our project partners.

The e-learning Hub is organised into simple, easy to access Learning Pathways. To start with, all learners will be assigned a foundation pathway which covers the basic understanding and concept of children's human rights. You may also be allocated a certain pathway based on what you told us during the registration process. For example, the Early Years pathway will be allocated to learners from the early years sector.

As an example of what you can expect from our eLearning hub, here is the content of the Rights-based Practice in Early Years course:

A. Essential Foundation - Foundation on Children's Human Rights

0%

rights

Complete all in order (0/1) 06/03/2028 Continue

Essential Foundation - Children's Human Rights
Complete in any order (0/2)

- Introduction to the UNCRC
Course started
- Making Rights Real
Course not completed

Early Years Pathway

50%

This pathway is relevant for those who work with children in Early Years. These courses will help you develop an understanding of the UNCRC and embed a rights-based approach to your practice.

Complete all in order (1/2) 15/06/2023 Continue

Essential Foundation - Children's Human Rights
Complete all in order (0/1)

- Introduction to the UNCRC
Course started

Developing Rights-based Practice
Completed (1/1)

- Rights-based Practice in Early Years
Course completed

